ABOUT US

Since its founding in 1921, the New York Building Congress has served as a productive forum for those entrusted to build New York City. The Building Congress remains an industry-directed membership organization. Its committees, task forces and events are designed to galvanize an action agenda, based on the involvement and interests of all sectors of the building community.

Thanks in large part to the women and men of the construction, design and real estate professions, New York City has grown by leaps and bounds over the past 100 years. So too has the building community. This growth, and the challenges it presents, combined with the modernization and globalization of the industry, serves only to intensify the need for a devoted and active congress of architects, engineers, skilled labor, contractors, real estate managers and other professionals. The Building Congress remains committed to its role as a conduit for all sectors of the industry and looks forward to many successful and productive years ahead.

OUR STORY

In April 1921, 25 architects, engineers, contractors and “labor men” met in the office of world-renowned architect Robert D. Kohn. These men were concerned that the building and construction industry was disorganized. They left that meeting with the goal of creating an organization of owners, bankers, architects, engineers, contractors, subcontractors, manufacturers, suppliers and labor representatives.

In the words of Mr. Kohn: “We started out with the idea that the only hope for effective improvement in the industry was to render through cooperation of all of its elements some measure of service which the public had the right to demand of us.”

Out of this meeting was born the New York Building Congress.

BUILDING CONGRESS NEWS TO MEMBERS OF THE NEW YORK BUILDING CONGRESS

March 1st, 1925

Better Building is Greatest Step for next Decade in Construction Industry of United States. Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of American Construction Council, tells New York Building Congress members

Can Huge Annual Loss from Cheap Construction and Badly Planned Cities be Reduced? How to Improve Character of Building and Control City Planning. How to Plan Building for Next Decade for Greater Service.

The meeting was closing but some serious conversation continued to its last moment and beyond.

The New York Building Congress, after its first year of operation, continues to do its work as a body of men who are deeply interested in the building industry and who are working for its improvement.

Construction today is a very important part of the life of the nation. It is the only industry which is not only a source of employment but also a source of wealth.

The building industry is the only one in the United States which is not only a source of employment but also a source of wealth.

It is the only industry which is not only a source of employment but also a source of wealth.

It is the only industry which is not only a source of employment but also a source of wealth.

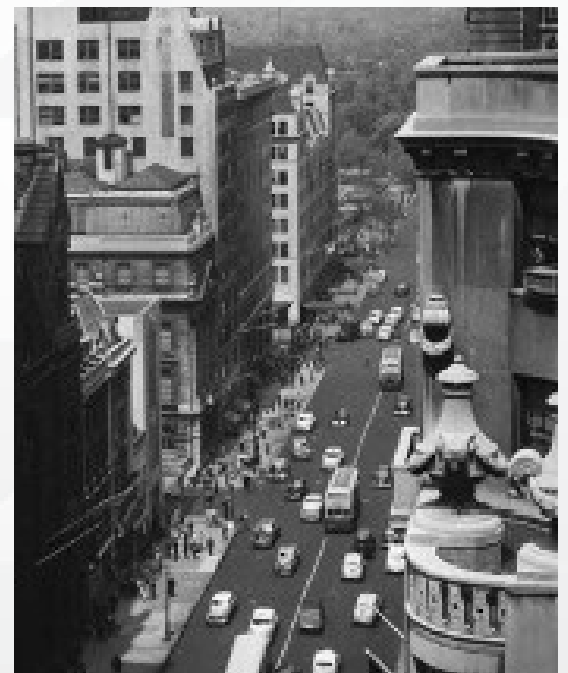

OF the things that are in the building industry, the most important is the building industry itself. It is the only industry which is not only a source of employment but also a source of wealth.

It is the only industry which is not only a source of employment but also a source of wealth.

It is the only industry which is not only a source of employment but also a source of wealth.

It is the only industry which is not only a source of employment but also a source of wealth.

It is the only industry which is not only a source of employment but also a source of wealth.

*ALL BUILDING CONGRESS EVENTS WILL FOLLOW AND ENFORCE ANY GUIDELINES SET IN PLACE BY THE STATE AS IT RELATES TO COVID-19. SHOULD ANY CHANGES TO THE FORMAT OF THE EVENT BE MADE, REGISTRANTS WILL BE NOTIFIED IN ADVANCE.

The Building Congress has never been anything without its members. We have advocated for the policies, projects and industry standards based on the unique experiences our members have had on the ground. More than ever, your engagement is important to shaping the message and activities planned for the Centennial, as we laud the historical achievements of not only our organization, but the entire building community. We once again need your help to preserve and continue that legacy.

The key to any successful anniversary commemoration is the committee behind it. We are grateful to have Frank Sciamè and Dominick Servedio, two longtime members and former Chairs of the Building Congress, co-chair the Centennial Commission. With your energy and enthusiasm, we will be able to produce a phenomenal story about the industry's history and its bright future.

100 YEARS

OUR EXHIBIT: WHAT WE BUILD

This fall, we will launch our signature Centennial exhibit, What We Build, to celebrate the people, places and structure that have created the New York City we know and love today. What We Build will feature a timeline and displays to document our unique eras, from the skyscraper wars of the 1920s to the present-day superdevelopment boom.

This public-facing exhibit will begin with a ribbon cutting and cocktail reception. Traveling exhibits will be located throughout the five boroughs, at places with deep ties to our history, that also represent the future of our industry.

What We Build shares how the industry took the idea of New York and turned it into a brick-and-mortar reality. It will honor the legacy and the people from over the last 100 years.

All of this will culminate with an elaborate display at the Centennial Ball at the Jacob K. Javits Convention Center on November 18. The newly expanded space will be a fitting final venue to highlight What We Build as we gather to celebrate the last 100 years and prepare for the next century.

Sponsors will have the opportunity to integrate projects and achievements into the exhibit. Individual options are available to host a traveling exhibit. All participants will work in collaboration with the curator to ensure seamless integration with the exhibit.

CENTENNIAL EXHIBIT

100 YEARS

Hosted at AIANY | Center for Architecture, audiences will have three floors to explore various facets of our industry over the past 100 years. There are various ways your company can be featured in the exhibit, depending on your sponsorship package:

1) COMPANY FEATURE

- Exclusive to Excelsior Sponsors, this is a section dedicated to your organization's history and impact on the industry.

2) WHAT WE BUILD FEATURE

- Our team will work with you to create a featured section on a topic relating to your organization.
- Prominent feature with photo(s), title and descriptive text.

3) SECTION SPONSOR

- Your organization logo accompanies a section of the exhibit that explores a topic/period of time.

4) SPOTLIGHT

- Our team will work with you to develop a callout somewhere within the exhibit, including text, a project image and your logo.

NOTE: These exhibit designs are still in development and subject to change.

Traveling Exhibits

In addition to the main exhibit, we are producing Traveling Exhibits that can move anywhere in the five boroughs. Excelsior and Century sponsors will have the opportunity to host this mobile exhibit at a venue they have access to (e.g. office lobbies). The hosting of a traveling exhibit is also available as an individual sponsorship.

The Traveling Exhibits are created using five double-sided sign stands. The first three stands are a condensed version of the What We Build exhibit, and the remaining two panels can be used to tell the story of your organization.

Our team will collaborate with yours to seamlessly integrate your material into the style and theme of our exhibit.

COMMEMORATIVE BOOK

This is your chance to be a part of our 100th Anniversary. To celebrate our Centennial, we are producing a commemorative book that tells the stories of our history, our members and the industry. The book will travel from 1921 through today, and look ahead to what our future holds. Sponsorship opportunities include:

☐ COMMEMORATIVE BOOK PRINTING - $15,000 each

Limited availability - logo included on title page of book.

☐ WHAT WE BUILD PROJECT HIGHLIGHT - $5,000 each

This section of the book will feature member projects over the last century. For an example of how this page would look, click here. Note that the design of the book is still on-going, and while the layout and graphics may change, you can expect your page to include: One background image spanning the entire page • Three photos of your choosing • Project details and credits • Approximately 90 words of text as summary • Your logo featured prominently on the bottom left corner

☐ I would like to make a $ _____ contribution to the production of the commemorative book at a level not listed above. Donations above $1,000 will be acknowledged in the closing of the book and on the Centennial wall in the office of the New York Building Congress.

CENTENNIAL EXHIBIT

In September 2021 we will launch our signature Centennial Exhibit: "What We Build," celebrating 100 years of New York's built environment and the people, places and structures that have created the City we know and love today. The exhibit will include a timeline and displays documenting the eras of New York's construction story and highlighting notable achievements.

While most exhibit benefits are exclusive to our Centennial package sponsors, we have the following opportunities available for those who would like to be part of this special exhibit:

☐ MAP PIN - $2,500 each

Feature a project location of your choosing on the prominently displayed five-borough map.

☐ TRAVELING EXHIBIT - $10,000 each

Host a micro exhibition at your property! Includes delivery, set up and breakdown of 5-6 panels in a space of your choosing. One of the panels will be a custom, promotional piece for your organization and the Building Congress will work with you on the design and features of the panel so that it seamlessly integrates with the exhibit.

☐ I would like to make a $ _____ contribution to the production of the exhibit at a level not listed above. Donations above $1,000 will be acknowledged on the donor wall, at the exhibit and on the Centennial wall in the office of the New York Building Congress.
