VISION

The New York Building Congress will lead the building industry — and the people who work within it — toward a more equitable, prosperous, and resilient future in New York and beyond.

MISSION

The New York Building Congress provides a unique forum to advance an industry-wide agenda that strengthens New York's built environment. It does so by facilitating the collaboration of diverse stakeholders and communities, with a focus on economic and infrastructure development, job creation, and professional exchange.

Success favors
the bold.
Construction is the engine behind our purpose. Our legacy was built by our people. Our future will be, too.
Thank you, our construction team, for building the great places that will endure for generations and for bringing Lendlease's vision to life.
The work you do every day for our clients – building iconic, city- and community-changing projects – matters. You make every difference.
Thank you for your unwavering commitment.

New York City is one of the most complex and challenging places to build, and no one knows how to navigate it better than we do. From cutting-edge workplaces for some of the world's largest companies to high-rise towers in the heart of Manhattan, we help clients tackle construction challenges to realize their vision.

We build solutions.
